

Dear FCC, in regards to the NAB's petition 04-160. I would like to ask that this petition be rejected. My satellite radio service is a product that I pay for and is a wonderful product. It apperars to me the NAB may be threatened by a new competiton and service they do not offer. As a previous business owner I can appreciate that when you develop a new product your competition becomes nervous and trys to copy your succcess. The NAB should be told to upgrade and offer the same quality and variety that Satelite offers. This will result in fair and open competition and make both the NAB and satelite radio long term successful companys. Who knows it may even create a new job or two and help the economy. Best regards, Dave Clark
